BENEATH THE WHEELS.

Nathaniel Drake Killed While Crawling Under a Freight Train at Milton.

His Head Crushed Almost to a Jelly—Details of the Accident.

MILTON, Nov. 26.—Nathaniel Drake met with a fatal accident on the railroad crossing just east of the depot, at eight o'clock. Freight train No. 9 was backing down on the main track very slowly, to couple up, and the conductor heard some one make an outcry, and gave the danger signal, and the engineer brought the train to a standstill before it had moved more than the length of a car. Drake was removed at once, but was already dead, the wheels having crushed his head, one arm and hand and both ankles.

The body was taken into the depot and Justice Clarke notified. He immediately commended a coroner's jury consisting of E. Holmes, G. R. Ross, P. M. Green, E. A. Davis, E. D. Bliss and A. J. Wells. Dr. G. W. Post made a post mortem examination, and after hearing his evidence and that of the train men, an adjournment was taken until Sunday morning at nine o'clock, when the jury heard additional evidence and rendered a verdict as to the cause of death and fully exonerated the railroad from all blame.

Deceased was a victim of the disease known as St. Vitus dance, for a time he was an inmate of the county house. He formerly owned a farm in Johnston, but for some years his disease has prevented him from earning a livelihood. He has been in the habit of crawling under the cars and has been cautioned against doing so, but he was so when he lost his life, although it was unnecessary as the crossing was open. He had just left Orent's barber shop, and was on his way to Pierce & Anderson's stable, where he said he was going to spend the night, as he had heretofore done.

The remains were taken in charge by some of our citizens and taken to the North Johnston cemetery for burial, his wife being buried there. He leaves a son and daughter to mourn his untimely death.

Some years since Mr. Drake's father and mother were driving over the crossing where Drake lost his life, the team was frightened by the engine, runaway and threw both Drake and his wife out, injuring the old gentleman so badly that he never recovered.

This recent accident brings up afresh the necessity, which has long existed, of having a flagman at both main crossings in this village. They are extremely dangerous and hardly a day passes that some one's life is not endangered by trains at these points.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

The Presbyterian Y. P. S. C. E. Celebrates its Second Anniversary.

The Sunday School Congress Proves a Success—To-Day's Work.

The Presbyterian branch of the Y. P. S. C. E. celebrated its second anniversary last evening.

The meeting was one of much interest. Besides a suitable song service there was an address by the Rev. W. F. Brown on "The Power of Youth," a paper by Miss E. May Clark on the Christian Endeavor Society's Growth," a paper by Mr. John Govey on the relation of the society to the church; an address by the retiring president, Miss Louise Hanson, and the secretary's report by Secretary E. E. Layton.

The officers elected for the ensuing term were:

President—G. A. Metcalf.
Vice President—O. H. Mead.
Secretary—E. E. Layton.
Treasurer—Miss Lizzie Richardson.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONGRESS.
In both of the Methodist churches of the city yesterday was given up to the services of the Sunday school congress.

The Rev. A. H. Gillett, D. D., preached at the Court Street church in the morning; while the pulpit at the First M. E. church was occupied by Dr. W. L. Davidson. In the evening there were union services at the Court Street church.

To-day, interesting sessions were held in the Court Street lecture room. The Rev. W. L. Davidson denounced the theme, "The Use and Abuse of Lesson Books," and illustrated his discourse by a blackboard exercise on the last of the bible. During the forenoon meeting the Rev. Dr. Gillett also spoke, having for his topic "Some of the Laws of Teaching." He treated his subject under the following heads:

1. The law of motive. 2. Thorough preparation. 3. Wise selection. 4. Adaptation. 5. Co-operation. 6. Definiteness. 7. System. 8. Illustration. 9. Inspiration. 10. Variety.

This evening the meeting will be devoted to an illustrated lecture by Dr. Gillett on "Scenes in Dixie."

THE BLACK FLAG.
Indiana Journal Henry Pettit's exciting melodrama of English life, "The Black Flag," is the attraction this week at the Park theatre, and two large audiences yesterday manifested their appreciation of the play and its presentation.

It is a stirring drama, full of exciting scenes and situations, while the comedy elements are so strong in it as to make it unusually entertaining. The escape of the convicts, when the black flag is hoisted, and the cave scene are sensational and permit the introduction of special scenic and mechanical effects, which were received with favor. The company is one that gives the play an even and intelligent performance. Mr. R. G. Jephell, who plays the part of Harry Glyndon, the hero, is a manly and forcible actor, who was particularly effective in the stronger scenes. Mr. W. M. McCreedy made much fun in the comedy part of Sim Lazarus, and the cast otherwise was good. "The Black Flag" will run all week, and is likely to draw large audiences.

"Use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral freely in any practice, and recommend it in cases of Whooping Cough among children. Having found it more certain to cure than any other medicine, I know it."—So says Dr. Bartlett, of Concord, Mass.

THE WEATHER.
At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 33 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 47 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north-west wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 26 and 30 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 33 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 41 degrees above zero. Cloudy with northwest wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 32 and 37 degrees above zero.

The fountain of perpetual youth was one of the dreams of antiquity. It has been well justly called the "Ayer's Sarsaparilla," which purifies the blood, gives vitality to all the bodily functions, and thus restores to age much of the vigor and freshness of youth.

EVANSVILLE, Nov. 25.—Fred Wahl, a coal heaver at the C. & N. W. R. R. Co's shed at this place, made a mistake while coaling an engine last night, and fell a distance of twelve feet, striking on his chest in such a manner as to cause fatal injuries.

WANT CLIFFORD PARDONED.

An Effort Made to Have Fugitive Murderer Released.

The Hon. R. A. Cooper, of Racine, who presented Harry Clifford in 1882 for the murder of Capt. William Fugh, and who had Clifford sentenced to the penitentiary for life, received notice Saturday from Messrs. Frisby & Gilson of Milwaukee that they would petition Governor Rank Dec. 15, for the pardon of Clifford. The Chicago Tribune says: "Mr. Cooper, accompanied by a delegation from this city, will resist the application, and but for the intervention of the police and militia would have been lynched."

THE SHOTS WENT WILD.

A Janesville Man Attempts to Shoot His Wife's Lover.

Waverly, Iowa, dispatches to the Milwaukee Sentinel state that a sensation was occasioned in Waverly last night by an attempt to murder. One dispatch says: "Some weeks ago George Ackley, and wife, of Janesville, Wis., separated because of the wife's fondness for a young man named Leo St. John. Mrs. Ackley came here and was followed by St. John. Last night Ackley met his wife and her lover on the street and drawing his revolver fired several shots at the latter. None of the shots took effect."

Not family by the name of Ackley is known to have removed from this city to Waverly, and the dispatch is believed to be erroneous. In all probability the Janesville referred to should have been Janesville, Iowa.

WILL OPEN A BANK.

E. D. Nelson, of this city, to organize a business at Janesville.

E. D. Nelson, of this city, has been occupied for some time past in looking over the ground in the northern part of the state and in Michigan with a view of going into business. The Gazette from Spirit, published at Bessemer, Michigan, says:

Mr. Nelson, of Janesville, Wis., has been in town the past week, securing the signatures of those who wish to lend their support to a private bank which he contemplates opening here in a short time. Mr. Nelson is a gentleman who thoroughly understands the banking business, and will prove a valuable addition to our city.

JANESVILLEMAN ENTERTAINED.

The Nashville, (Tenn.) Union and American, of November 23rd, publishes the following: "A novel invasion of the Hermitage Club was made with absolute success yesterday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, by a party of nine young ladies at whose head were Mrs. Will O. Dake, Mrs. L. F. Benson and Mrs. H. D. McKinney of Wisconsin, all of whom set down to an elegantly appointed lunch at Mrs. Dake's guests. Whether due to the bright wit and charm of manner of the hostesses or to the menu, which was of the club's best quality and specially prepared, or to a general harmony at the board, the company did not rise until five o'clock. Elegant floral decorations adorned the table. There were present Mrs. H. D. McKinney and Miss Madeline McKinney, of Janesville, Wis., guests of Mrs. Irwin, in Vine street; Mrs. Phipps, of Knoxville, Miss Bliza Marshall, Miss Birdie Brown, Miss Sadie Fall, Miss Hattie Marshall, Miss Sissie Davis, Miss Susie Houston and Miss Mamie Jackson. The ladies were enthusiastic over the cuisine of the club, the elegance and completeness of the club's furnishings, and over the liberality and appreciation of the members in opening and throwing the privileges of one of the best clubs in the country open to them."

ALIST NOVGOROD.

The ladies of Christ church have in preparation an entertainment differing in many features from anything of the kind ever seen on this continent. It is a representation as near as possible of the wonderful fair of Russia's great market place, Nijni Novgorod. There many thousands who wish to buy and sell and thousands of eight seats gather from all eastern countries. There are displays of the products of many lands in endless variety. While the ladies cannot import the heavy products such as iron from the coal, they promise a large display of the gorgeous fabrics of Persia, of silks from China and Japan, fancy articles, curiosities and novelties from all countries, oddly dressed people representing all nations, strolling musicians, Russian Gypsies, in fact everything interesting and now. The place will be Apollo hall, and time Dec. 10, 1888.

An only boy
Slide and fro.

And little girl, too,
The backwash in the soap
Let a mother's joy through.

Judging from the large amount of Ladies', Misses', Children's and Gen's underwear sold by Burns & Boland during the past week, their low prices must be appreciated.

SEEN IN SOCIETY.

A NEW DRESS is coming into fashion. It is the "Tartan" for the winter. Its coat is silky smooth and soft, with markings at head and tail. He is a good temper.

The very latest rage among some of New York's fairest creatives are canes. They are known as walking sticks for ladies, and Sarah Bernhardt is said to be the mother of the fashion.

A very new and very French idea is the dining-room wholly separate from the house, reached through a covered passage and all over glass, and so shaped and finished that it can be covered in a cent of time. This sensible move will be appreciated by young men with matrimonial inclinations, who have been dreading the enormous bills they must pay for suppers and presents to the ladies.

Whispering gossamer must have a unique quality in order to be fashionable. The simple table service of silver, such as spoons, forks, knives, etc., are supposed to come from the family of the bride, and from her expected guests. Therefore, the labor is increased ten-fold in trying to find some treasure of artistic workmanship, the duplicate of which can not be found on earth.

No one is more really fashionable unless she carries a pocket watch. They are of silver, of gold, or even of gold, and are ornamented with all sorts of designs, including the lady's initials or first name, but more often with a design of her favorite flower. These watches are round and square boxes, some costing twenty to fifty dollars. The tiny confessions mostly used in them are gum pencils in different fashions, imported from the Orient, and of various "pinks," the latter being very popular and coming in different colors, according to favor.

Weddings are getting to be of such common occurrence nowadays that brides and grooms that it adds to the interest of the occasion to have a novelty to spring upon their friends, either at the church or at the reception. At a recent fashionable wedding in Chicago, as the bride party entered the church, a choir of thirty young women sang the wedding march from voices sung the wedding march from an orchestra consisting solely of trumpets. The four bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink chrysanthemums, and wore their hair dressed with the same flower.

POINTS ON HEALTH.

DISORDERED digestion in adults is often the cause of much suffering and is induced by eating rich food. It is a common ailment, especially for children and elderly people, and the more hours of it they get the better are their chances for life and health.

Any kind of a bath or any process that will produce a cooling reaction, will cure a cold. Simply inhaling fresh air largely by deep inspiration is sufficient to nip an incipient cold in the bud.

Cold drinks, as a rule, increase the ferocious condition of the mouth and stomach, and so create thirst. Experience shows it to be a fact that hot drinks relieve thirst and "cool off" the body when it is in an abnormal heated condition better than ice-cold drinks.

It is altogether too much fancy cooking nowadays. "Croutons" and "perrets" take the place of the good old-fashioned cod fish balls and hash, and the stomach of the average American citizen is being ruined by eating too many kinds of food, and not enough good cooking.

Light is a necessity; without it people become nervous, irritable, consumptive and sink into premature decrepitude. Patients of a chronic disease of a hospital refuse to leave their rooms, and windows curtains would better be omitted. Light is a good disinfectant. Men may work in a malarial district during the day and with the dawn, if they will stay disordered during the night.

Many valuable LITERARY ARTICLES will appear: a paper on Walter Scott's Methods of Work, illustrated from original MSS., a second "Self of Old Books," by Mrs. James T. Fields, and many other articles of great interest.

Articles on ART SUBJECTS will be a feature. Papers are arranged to appear by Clarence Cook, E. H. Bushfield, Austin Dobson, and many others.

FISHING ARTICLES describing sport in the best fishing grounds will appear. Salmon, Winesap, Bass and Tarpon are the favorites now arranged. These authors are well-known sportsmen. Illustrated.

Illustrated ARTICLES of great variety, touching upon all manner of subjects, travel, biography, description, etc., will appear, but not of the conventional commonplace sort.

Among the most interesting in the list of new articles for the year will be a remarkable article by Professor John Trowbridge, upon the most recent developments and uses of photography. Illustrated.

A class of articles which has proved of special interest will be contributed by a group of papers upon ELECTRICITY in its most recent applications, by eminent authorities; a remarkable paper on DEEP MINING; and other interesting papers. Unique illustrations.

A SPECIAL OFFER to cover last year's numbers, which include all the Railway Articles, as follows:
